

Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design Training (CPTED)

*The Psychology of Human Interactions with Our Environment
Learn to read and modify the signals our environment sends.*

CPTED strategies can discourage undesirable behavior and encourage appropriate activity. This interactive, interesting and free training opportunity offered by PalmettoPride and hosted by Keep the Midlands Beautiful, includes:

- ✓ Clear explanations and examples of the four CPTED strategies of Territorial Reinforcement, Natural Access Control, Natural Surveillance and Maintenance.
- ✓ Techniques for implementing the strategies (i.e. Landscaping, Pavement Treatments, Architecture, Activity Support, Public Art, Lighting)
- ✓ Hands-on experience in applying the concepts via field study.
- ✓ Guidance in conducting a CPTED survey and completing a CPTED report.
- ✓ Resources and continued support as you implement CPTED strategies on your personal or business property and throughout the community.

Who should attend? Municipal leaders, law enforcement*, planners*, architects, landscapers, parks department, community revitalization teams, business owners, homeowners, anyone and everyone else interested in reducing crime.

This class is typically $600 - $900 so we encourage you to take advantage of this incredible offer!
